

THE OPRAH WINFREY SHOW

World's Most Talented Kids

From the show World's Most Talented Kids

Twelve-year-old Susan May is wowing audiences with her soulful, mature renditions of jazz favorites. One critic said: "It's the voice of an older, larger woman.....who has had her heart broken a few times."

Susan has been singing since she could talk, and had her first performance at age six. But why jazz? "It's wonderful music. It's really loose and relaxed," she says. While Susan would love to pursue a career in music, she has another ambition—to become a reconstructive surgeon. This is a little girl with big dreams!
